Complying with the Copyright Act (1968)

Securing an APRA AMCOS licence will meet your legal obligations under the Copyright Act. The Australian legislation is based on the authority of the Australian Constitution. If you use copyright music your online showreel you need permission (a licence) from the authors of those works. A showreel is a short video with music containing examples of audio visual productions and is a tool for performers, directors and audio visual producers to promote their work online.

APRA AMCOS (which stands for the Australasian Performing Right Association and the Australasian Mechanical Copyright Owners Society) is an organisation which licenses rights in music on behalf of 100,000 members linked with 170 affiliated similar organisations worldwide. We pay your annual licence fees directly back to the songwriters, composers and publishers who own the music you're using. Legal alternatives to securing an APRA AMCOS licence are on page 2.

You can get independent information on copyright from the Australian Copyright Council www.copyright.org.au.

What does APRA AMCOS do with my fees?

We care about ensuring the licence fees you pay are distributed in the most economical and accurate way possible. We deduct our expenses from the revenue we receive and then distribute your fees to the songwriters, composers and music publishers whose works we have licensed to you.

This means for every dollar we collect, 86 cents is returned to music creators. At 13.6 per cent, our operational costs compare very favourably to organisations providing the same service overseas.

APRA AMCOS requests Online Showreels licensees to provide a music report each quarter. This ensures licence fees are distributed accurately. If they are unable to do so we apply a distribution by analogy.

When do I pay?

You pay when you first take out the licence, then just once a year. If your APRA AMCOS licence fee is more than $500, we will put you on quarterly payments (with no interest). Extended payment terms are available. To find our more contact our Customer Support Team on 1300 852 388.

APRA AMCOS Licence. Our licence provides the easiest and most cost-effective way to access public performance rights to the world's repertoire of music.

Direct Licensing. Our members may license their music directly to music users and you are free to discuss this with them. You can find more details on our website under Dealing directly with copyright owners.

Re-recorded or "PPCA-Free" Music.

Some music suppliers re-record popular tracks using session musicians and singers. Although the product is not the original recording, you still need our licence because the lyrics and melodies are not changed and remain represented by us.

Royalty-Free Music. Some music suppliers offer recordings of music which they say is outside our repertoire and so does not need our licence. If you wish to use a "Royalty-Free" music product, please contact us and we will check whether any extra licences are needed.
